Response to Proposers' Questions

3.1 Question: Our company provides adaptive learning platforms and blended learning platforms. Can we respond to this RFP?

Answer: All Ed Tech JPA RFPs are structured to provide flexibility for products not explicitly called for in the RFP. If your product satisfies the criteria in any of the Functionality and Usability sections it may be considered for award under that section.

Essential requirements are required only to be considered for award in those specific sections. For example, if a vendor agrees to all terms and conditions and meets all essential requirements for sections 3.1 - 3.4, but not for sections 3.5 - 3.11 they will be awarded for sections 3.1 - 3.4. Below is an example of a possible award scenario.
